

Sue O'Brien

OBE

Sue has over 20 years' experience as a practitioner in board advisory services. Her work within the search industry has focused on board and non executive appointments in FTSE, AIM and private listed businesses.

With an early career in retail, she was a managing director of a leisure business in the early nineties. She moved into executive search in the late nineties where she was Chief Executive Officer of a listed search firm before joining Ridgeway Partners in 2015.

In addition to her managing partner role at Ridgeway Partners, Sue is non executive director of The Pipeline, a founder member of The Women's Business Council and a trustee for KidsOut children's charity.

In January 2014, she was awarded an OBE for services to charity and for promoting equality in the workplace.

Available for: 1:1 session and small group workshops.
